

The Cotton Report, where are we now?

As most Properties are starting to plan for their 2023 budget, the question remains, what will 2023 look like?

Boca Terry's supply chain situation has improved over the past few months.

We have warehouses full of inventory, to ensure prompt deliveries of your Terry and Linen needs.

Quite a change from a year ago!

While this is positive, Vendors who have availability, currently have it at fairly high costs.

As these products move out, and new products come in, we are hoping for stability in the market.

Most of the Vendors should have a better idea of pricing, come late fall. You shouldn't need to polish off the crystal ball, to figure costs for your 2023 budget.

We are advising our customers to use current pricing for their budgeting, and with some good luck, you will have extra money in your budget, for nice new Bathrobes and Slippers!

Till next time...
